While cash gratuities are always appreciated, a thoughtful review or thank you note goes a long way as well. If you plan to leave reviews, it is kind to share a note with those involved on the wedding day so they can expect to hear from you.

When distributing gratuity, the best way is by envelope or Venmo. To make your life easier, our KEE team can collect any gratuity for distribution from you at the beginning of the ceremony rehearsal (typically the day prior to your wedding day). We ask that you have the envelopes prepared and sealed properly for distribution on the wedding day. Upon request, for those who prefer Venmo, we can assemble an email with each vendor's information so you can share gratuities easily.
